

GMI Research Seminar Series

2009–10

Greenwich Maritime Institute

The Greenwich Maritime Institute (GMI) is a research and postgraduate centre of the University of Greenwich dedicated to advancing an understanding of national and international maritime activity in the present, past and future. Specialisms are maritime policy, history and management, and the research seminars reflect these interests.

The seminars are on Wednesdays at monthly intervals from October to April, 6–7.15pm, in the Windsor Castle Room, room 010, Queen Anne Court, Old Royal Naval College, Park Row, Greenwich.

They are open to all students, staff and members of the public.

The GMI is in Queen Anne Court.

The nearest train stations are Maze Hill (main line) and Cutty Sark (DLR).

For information, telephone Suzanne Bowles on 020 8331 7688.

Further information can be found on our website www.gre.ac.uk/gmi.

How to find us

University of Greenwich,
Greenwich Campus,
Old Royal Naval College,
Park Row, London SE10 9LS

Road

From the M25 take the A2 turn-off to London and join the A2. Continue forward when the road becomes the A102. Take the turn-off signposted Greenwich (A206). At the roundabout take the first exit to Greenwich. Continue along the A206 for approximately 1 mile. The campus is on your right.

Please note, however, traffic is heavy in Greenwich, parking around the university is limited and the regulations are strict, so we advise visitors to use public transport whenever possible.

Train

London Bridge/Cannon Street/Charing Cross to Greenwich station, or to Maze Hill on the same line if travelling from Kent.

Tube

The nearest underground station is North Greenwich on the Jubilee Line. Then take a 188 bus to the campus.

Docklands Light Railway (DLR)

Cutty Sark station is close to the campus and is on the line to Lewisham. If travelling from London on the Tube, change for the DLR at Bank or Tower Gateway.

Bus

Log on to www.tfl.gov.uk/buses for the latest information.
