How Fast Track works

Fast Track works in two ways:

1. Natural progression

This is available if you are currently on a course with a corresponding degree at the University of Greenwich. The programme could be a foundation degree, HNC or HND.

A letter will be sent to you in your final year, offering a place on a degree programme. This is conditional on successfully completing your current course. Entry is to the second or third year depending on the programme and on your results.

If you want to be considered for a follow-on programme other than the corresponding degree, please contact the Enquiry Unit on 0800 005 006 for a university application form.

2. Standard progression

This applies if you are on a course without a single, directly corresponding degree.

Each student is sent an “invitation to apply” letter with a partially filled-in application form. You should complete this, giving your choice of degree(s). You can discuss your selection with your college lecturers or the university’s Enquiry Unit, or, even better, attend one of our Open Days. These are held throughout the year, and give you the chance to meet university staff and get personal attention on the spot.

Your lecturers may arrange information sessions at your college by contacting the university’s Education Liaison Unit on 020 8331 7720.

Once it has been received by the university, your form will go through the standard application process.
