School of Health & Social Care

The School of Health & Social Care was established in 1990, following the merger of the Dartford and Gravesham School of Nursing and Midwifery, and Greenwich and Bexley School of Nursing and Midwifery. In 1993, the School joined the University of Greenwich and is now one of the largest in the university.

The School has four main areas of work:

- Pre-registration midwifery, nursing, social work and speech and language therapy
- Undergraduate health and well-being, public health and psychology
- Continuing professional development activities
- Research and development.

We provide education for 1,000 pre-registration nursing and midwifery students, paramedics and speech and language therapy students and offer many opportunities for you to study once you are a registered healthcare professional. These include an extensive range of study days.

Course A–Z

Anaphylaxis

Who is this for?

This course is for all healthcare staff involved in delivering clinical care to service users.

What is it about?

Anaphylaxis seems to be increasingly common, almost certainly associated with an increase in the allergic disease over the last two or three decades (Resuscitation Council UK, January 2008). This course gives practitioners an opportunity to gain more understanding of anaphylaxis, local policy and the immediate management of an anaphylactic reaction.

Sessions are organised in response to a specific request via a trust or organisation representative, who should liaise with the course co-ordinator to arrange the venue, date and time.

The course co-ordinator needs:

- The anticipated number of attendees and the areas of clinical practice they represent
- A copy of local anaphylaxis policy/guidelines relevant to the attendees.

DURATION half day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Breastfeeding

Half-day update

Who is this for?

This workshop is for hospital and community staff who come into contact with pregnant women, women who are breastfeeding and their families.

What is it about?

The workshop offers up-to-date information on World Health Organization and UNICEF policies, government guidelines, and national and local breastfeeding initiatives. It also covers individual roles and responsibilities in supporting commitment to breastfeeding. You will have the opportunity to discuss good practice using recent research.

Single study day

Who is this for?

This workshop gives an introduction to breastfeeding for new hospital and community staff who come into contact with pregnant women, breastfeeding mothers and their families.

What is it about?

The workshop provides basic information on the lactation process, the health benefits of breastfeeding and the requirements for successful breastfeeding. It covers up-to-date information on the World Health Organization and UNICEF policies, government guidelines and national and local breastfeeding initiatives. It also covers individual roles and responsibilities in relation to commitment to breastfeeding. You will also have the opportunity to discuss multidisciplinary working and to use recent research to identify best practice.

These study days can be adapted to meet individual trusts' needs and policies on breastfeeding, or for working towards the UNICEF Certificate of Commitment or Baby Friendly Award.

DURATION two courses – half-day and one-day
DETAILS sessions organised on request

Chaperoning

Who is this for?

This course is aimed at staff who can be called upon to act as chaperones within a healthcare setting.

What is it about?

You will:

- Learn the role and responsibilities of the chaperone
- Gain an understanding of when there is a need for a chaperone in practice
- Appreciate the perspective of the patient and the need for informed consent
- Understand the professional context within which intimate procedures and examinations are conducted and sensitivity to cultural differences and diverse needs is acquired
- Learn how to consider complaints and whistle-blowing policies.

DURATION half day
DETAILS 11 Jan, 10am–1pm, Avery Hill
CONTACT Carol Allen • 020 8331 9177

Clinical Supervision

The School's Clinical Supervision Working Group has worked in liaison with individual trusts to agree education for clinical supervision. Clinical supervision preparation is organised as two study days.

Practitioners who have no experience of supervision but who are considered to be ready for a supervisory role should attend both days. Practitioners who are experienced supervisors but have not attended a formal preparation course may attend Day 2 only. For guidance on which day(s) you should attend, please speak to Anne Gill and your trust representative.

Developing Clinical Supervision Skills (Day 1)

Who is this for?

This one-day course is for people involved in the clinical supervision process as a supervisee, and/or preparing for a supervisor's role, and/or experienced supervisors who would like an update/refresher course.

What is it about?

This introduction to clinical supervision will give you the opportunity to explore the concept of clinical supervision within your practice setting.

Skills for Supervisors (Day 2)

Who is this for?

This course prepares practitioners who have worked under supervision to become supervisors. In exceptional cases, the course accepts applicants without experience of being supervised but who are considered by their manager to be ready for a supervisory role.

What is it about?

This course will give you the opportunity to explore the knowledge and practise the skills required to perform the role of clinical supervisor. It builds on the knowledge gained from Developing Clinical Supervision Skills and/or experience of clinical supervision.

DURATION two courses, each one day

DETAILS 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

Cognitive Behavioural Therapy Awareness

Who is this for?

This course is aimed at practitioners working in primary care who come into contact with individuals experiencing psychological conditions, such as anxiety or depression.

What is it about?

The effects of psychological conditions often result in individuals being unable to attend work and seeking help from primary care services. The issue of accessibility of appropriate treatment is a matter being addressed as part of the DoH's drive to implement its plan 'Improving Access to Psychological Therapies'. In particular, cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) has been identified by the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) from the evidence base as a psychological therapy of choice that should be accessible to people requiring it.

CBT is an evidence-based approach that has proven to be successful in treating anxiety and depression. Practitioners intending to refer people for this therapy should understand how it works. This course will provide you with an appreciation of the potential therapeutic gains and will give you the necessary background to explain the fundamental principles to the person being referred. It will provide you with a knowledge of common psychological conditions and will examine how these are manifested. It will also give you an overview of the fundamental principles of CBT and their application to a variety of clinical conditions, and it will help you to apply the basic interventions in order to support individuals following therapy.

DURATION equivalent to one day (online course)

Conflict Resolution

Who is this for?

This course is aimed at frontline staff who come into contact with the public, including nurses on hospital wards, midwives, health visitors, paediatric nurses, district nurses, general practitioners, practice staff, and hospital, medical and dental staff. It is also for receptionists and public health medicine and community health services medical and dental staff.

What is it about?

The course will give you the opportunity to meet the requirements of the conflict resolution national syllabus. Training focuses on non-physical techniques and includes verbal and non-verbal communication skills, customer service, recognition of warning signs, de-escalation models and cultural awareness. The day is organised in response to a specific request from a representative of a trust or organisation, who should liaise with the contact to arrange the venue, date and time of the session.

You must ensure the course co-ordinator receives:

- Details of the anticipated number of attendees and the areas of clinical practice they represent
- A copy of local policies on management of violence and aggression.

DURATION one day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Intravenous Additives

Who is this for?

This course is for qualified nurses, midwives and other healthcare professionals who administer intravenous drugs to adult clients.

What is it about?

The course will prepare you for a period of supervised practice in the administration of peripheral intravenous drugs. It covers accountability of IV drug administration, how drugs work in the body, and safety issues for calculating dosages. It concludes with a multiple choice theory test (pass mark 70%) and a drug calculation test (pass mark 100%). You should bring a calculator for the calculation test.

After completing this course, successful candidates are required to undertake a period of supervised practice to become competent in this skill. It is your responsibility to arrange this practice and secure a suitably qualified assessor.

DURATION one day

DETAILS 20 Jan, 17 Feb, 21 March, 20 April, 24 May or 12 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736 • c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk

Intravenous Additives for Paediatric Nurses

Who is this for?

This course is for nurses and other healthcare professionals who administer intravenous drugs to children and young people.

What is it about?

The course will provide you with the underpinning theoretical knowledge to support the justification and safe administration of intravenous medication to children and young people.

At the end of the course, there are theoretical and calculation assessments for which you will need a calculator. You must obtain a pass in both of these to be awarded a certificate demonstrating successful completion of the course. This will enable you to undertake a period of supervised practice to become competent in this skill. It is your responsibility to arrange this practice and secure a suitably qualified assessor.

DURATION one day

DETAILS 21 March or 13 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736 • c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk

Intravenous Cannulation and Phlebotomy

Who is this for?

This course is for nurses and other professionals involved in cannulation and phlebotomy. We offer two options: Phlebotomy and Cannulation and Phlebotomy Only; the former option is not suitable for healthcare assistants, but they can undertake the Phlebotomy Only option.

What is it about?

On this course, you will be given training in cannulation and phlebotomy, including practice on simulation trainers and a short theoretical assessment. You should bring equipment from your clinical area, such as blood bottles, vacutainer needles and pink or blue cannulae.

After completing this course, successful candidates are required to undertake a period of supervised practice to become competent in this skill. It is your responsibility to arrange this practice and secure a suitably qualified assessor.

Phlebotomy and Cannulation

DURATION one day

DETAILS 31 Jan, 13 March, 16 April, 23 May or 14 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

Phlebotomy Only

DURATION half day

DETAILS 1 Feb, 14 March, 17 April, 18 April, 31 May or 15 June, 9am–12.30pm or 1–4.30pm, Avery Hill

Leg Ulcer Management

Who is this for?

This course is for nurses and other professionals caring for patients with leg ulcers. It is not suitable for healthcare assistants.

What is it about?

The course gives an introduction to theory, care and skills in ulcer management. You are required to attend all three days and should organise supervised practice after the course. Assessment of competence should be organised by your supporting manager.

DURATION three days

DETAILS 18–20 April or 20–22 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736

• c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk

Male/Urinary Catheterisation

Who is this for?

This study day is for qualified nurses. It is not suitable for healthcare assistants.

What is it about?

The study day includes both supra-pubic and intermittent catheterisation and incorporates the Royal College of Nursing guidelines on male/female catheterisation. You will gain awareness of recent developments and practices in urinary catheterisation, including legal and ethical issues. Discussion will cover principles, maintenance of asepsis and risks.

You will use simulation trainers. An assessment tool is provided for continued measurement of skills for further practice. This should be arranged with your supporting manager.

DURATION one day

DETAILS 24 Jan, 21 Feb, 23 March, 18 April or 15 June, 9.30am–4.30pm, Avery Hill

Mentor Update

Who is this for?

This update study day is for qualified nurses and other healthcare professionals.

What is it about?

Conducted in practice by link teachers, the study day will keep you informed of changes to programme, curriculum and professional issues related to mentoring.

It is provided on an individual basis for your ward, department or trust. Link teachers and departmental co-ordinators named below can give details of dates and availability. You can also check noticeboards within the trusts.

CONTACT Departmental Administrator 020 8331 8806 (Adult Nursing) • Sue Waterman 020 8331 8887 (Children's Nursing, Learning Disabilities, Mental Health, Midwifery)

Midwifery

We are happy to develop study days on a range of topics relating to midwifery practice. These can be offered either at the university or on site within maternity services.

Moving and Handling

Who is this for?

This course is for care staff involved in clinical moving and handling.

What is it about?

The course, limited to 12 participants, will update or train you in all aspects of clinical moving or handling. It will review the required skills and explore recent developments in clinical moving and handling. Please wear suitable clothing and footwear for the practical session.

DURATION one day
DETAILS 28 March or 21 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill
CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736
• c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk or (for information only) l.hamilton@gre.ac.uk

Moving and Handling Update for Existing Trainers/Supervisors

Who is this for?

This one-day course, limited to 12 participants, is for those who have completed their Clinical Moving and Handling: Preparation for Trainers course and have had an update within the last two years.

What is it about?

The course reviews the skills and role of the moving and handling trainer, gives an update on recent developments in clinical moving and handling, and discusses problems in workplace training and practice. Please wear suitable clothing and footwear for the practical session.

DURATION one day

DETAILS 12 Jan, 11 April or 14 June, 9am–4pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736
 • c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk or (for information only) l.hamilton@gre.ac.uk

Numeracy for Nurses/ Midwives

Who is this for?

This course is suitable for qualified nurses (from all disciplines) and midwives who are involved in direct patient care that requires knowledge and confidence in numeracy.

What is it about?

The numeracy skills of nurses and midwives are becoming increasingly assessed as a strategy to ensure accurate drug administration and other numerical aspects of patient care (such as checking fluid balance and body mass index). This course will equip you with the confidence and numeracy skills to undertake these aspects of patient care and/or to revise specific areas as required.

The course is facilitated by a supportive tutor and covers the main numeracy skills required for patient care. Teaching is undertaken in our clinical skills laboratories; this helps to transfer theoretical skills to clinical practice and ensures that the clinical context for the numeracy skills is apparent at all times to support learning (Wright, 2008, 2009).

The course can be accessed on the dates given below. We can also organise a course in response to a specific request from a trust or organisation representative. Please contact us to discuss dates, times and your specific requirements.

DURATION half day

DETAILS 14 March, 10am–1pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Kerri Wright • 020 8331 8965
 • k.wright@gre.ac.uk

Record Keeping

We provide two different updates on record keeping:

Basic Record Keeping

Who is this for?

This workshop is for non-qualified staff such as healthcare assistants, home carers, nursery nurses and administration staff.

What is it about?

The workshop reviews the principles and skills required for effective record keeping. It will enable you to:

- Explain the importance of effective record keeping
- Discuss the different methods and records available and their role in patient/client care, e.g. information systems, e-mail, manual records, telephone and fax
- Demonstrate the skills for effective record keeping, including ensuring that the style, language and content of documentation is in line with NMC guidelines and local policy
- Develop an action plan for future developments in record keeping.

DURATION half day

DETAILS 22 Feb or 29 June, 10am–1pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736

• c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk

Advanced Record Keeping

Who is this for?

This workshop is for qualified professionals such as nurses, health visitors, physiotherapists, and speech and language therapists, and their managers.

What is it about?

The workshop examines the structures, skills and principles that will allow you to carry out effective record keeping in your own team or locality. It will enable you to:

- Discuss the importance of record keeping from a service and individual perspective, including quality assurance, data protection and freedom of information issues
- Critically discuss the different record keeping systems being implemented and their implications for record keeping
- Explain accountability issues in relation to record keeping and the implications of this for local practice
- Demonstrate peer assessment and discuss the importance of feedback and development plans
- Discuss barriers to effective record keeping in local areas and share best practice and ideas for addressing these barriers.

DURATION half day

DETAILS 6 March or 6 July, 1–4pm, Avery Hill

CONTACT Carolyn Corby • 020 8331 9736 •

c.a.corby@gre.ac.uk

Refresher Workshop – Academic Skills

Who is this for?

Registered Practitioners who are attending, or want to attend, Continuing Professional Development (CPD) courses. This two day refresher workshop is designed for registered practitioners who have not recently undertaken academic study and would benefit from an opportunity to discuss and practice their academic skills prior to attending a CPD course.

What is it about?

During the 2 days you will be able to:

- Be introduced to the university IT systems
- Practice and discuss methods for searching for appropriate information
- Discuss and practice key skills required for successful academic writing
- Discuss and practice referencing skills
- Discuss issues relating to plagiarism and academic writing

Please note that the cost for these study days is additional to the CPD course fee.

DURATION two days

DETAILS Dates in March TBC, Avery Hill

Safeguarding Children and Young People

A shared responsibility: safeguarding, promoting and protecting the welfare and well-being of children and young people – and in particular protecting them from significant harm – depends on effective joint working between agencies and professionals that have different roles and expertise. Furthermore, it is identified in the policy document Working Together to Safeguard Children (HM Government, 2006) that individual children and or young people, especially some of the most vulnerable and those at greatest risk of social exclusion, will need co-ordinated help from all sectors. This includes health, education, children's social care and, quite possibly, the voluntary sector and other agencies, including youth justice services.

The School of Health & Social Care has responded to the Every Child Matters agenda by developing a range of safeguarding workshops and study days. These are delivered flexibly and can be tailored to meet different requirements. The following entries outline different course content, aims, outcomes and target audiences.

Half-day awareness workshop: Safeguarding Children and Young People

Who is this for?

This workshop is for staff who work regularly with children and their families.

What is it about?

The workshop raises awareness of issues in child protection practice. It will enable you to:

- Define what is meant by child abuse and recognise possible signs of child abuse
- Identify key documents relating to child abuse and know where to find support and guidance
- Discuss professional roles and responsibilities in relation to child protection and the referral process.

DURATION half day

Half-day update: Safeguarding Children and Young People

Who is this for?

This update is for those who work regularly with children, young people and adults who are parents/carers. You should have previously attended training. These sessions may be multi-professional or discipline specific, and are suitable for staff who are required to attend mandatory annual updates.

What is it about?

The update will develop your skills in recognising vulnerable children and child abuse as relevant to your role and will facilitate discussion of professional roles and responsibilities in relation to safeguarding children, young people and their families, child protection and the referral process. It will enable you to:

- Identify children at risk of abuse and neglect and demonstrate knowledge of possible signs of child abuse and neglect
- Demonstrate knowledge of local procedures and the referral process within your own workplace
- Critically reflect on the role of documentation and communication across multi-agencies within child protection
- Identify where to find support and guidance
- Identify the benefit of child protection supervision mechanisms available within your own organisation.

DURATION half day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Study day: Safeguarding Children and Young People – Everybody's Responsibility

Who is this for?

This study day is for those in contact with children, young people and adults who are parents/carers. Participants should have previously attended a half-day awareness workshop. These study days are inter-professional but can be delivered to discipline-specific groups.

What is it about?

The day will provide you with opportunities to:

- Further develop your awareness of issues in safeguarding and protecting children and young people
- Develop skills in recognising vulnerable children and child abuse as relevant to your role
- Discuss professional roles and responsibilities in relation to safeguarding the welfare of children and young people, child protection and the referral process.

DURATION one day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Study day: Safeguarding and Protecting the Welfare of Children and Young People – Everybody’s Responsibility

Who is this for?

This study day is for those with a particular responsibility for safeguarding children who have previously attended Step 1 training or equivalent.

What is it about?

The day will provide you with opportunities to:

- Update and build on your previous knowledge and experience in order to further develop skills for practice in relation to safeguarding children and young people within a contemporary context
- Explore issues in relation to the social context of a child’s or young person’s welfare and the needs of vulnerable children, children in need and those in need of protection
- Gain an understanding of contemporary policy and issues for safeguarding and protecting children and young people within the legislative framework
- Examine the issues that may affect parenting capacity and the child’s well-being within the context of inter-professional work.

DURATION one day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Half-day workshop: Child Protection Supervision Awareness

Who is this for?

This workshop is for those in contact with children, young people and adults who are parents/carers, as well as those who work regularly with children, young people and adults who are parents/carers.

What is it about?

The workshop will provide you with an overview of supervision in the context of child protection and will review current practices, roles and responsibilities in developing and delivering child protection supervision within the workplace environment. By the end of the workshop, you will have had an opportunity to:

- Explore the concept of supervision in relation to the roles of supervisor and supervisee
- Consider current practices within your own workplace environment
- Critically analyse differing cultural values and beliefs and their potential effect on child protection supervision.

DURATION half day

DETAILS sessions organised on request

Short course: An Introduction to Child Protection Supervision

Who is this for?

This short course is for those with a particular responsibility for safeguarding children as well as operational managers who supervise practitioners and volunteers.

What is it about?

The short course will enable you to explore the concept of child protection supervision in relation to national, organisational and individual contexts and will develop your critical understanding of the needs of the supervisor and supervisee within the safeguarding agenda. By the end of the course, you will have had the opportunity to:

- Review current legislation and policy that informs the safeguarding agenda
- Explore the concept of supervision and gain an overview of current practices, roles and responsibilities
- Explore issues and tools of communication in relation to safeguarding children, including the Common Assessment Framework
- Critically examine information-sharing systems and debate the concept of multi-professional working, benefits and barriers.

During each session, time is spent discussing recommendations from child protection serious case reviews and considering their application to current practice. You will be encouraged to bring real-life issues to the sessions to share with colleagues.

DURATION equivalent to four days (spread over five days with two half days and three full days)

Two-day workshop: Safeguarding and Protecting the Welfare of Children, Young People and their Families

Who is this for?

This workshop is for professionals who have a remit for safeguarding children and young people.

What is it about?

The workshop raises awareness of contemporary interprofessional issues for safeguarding and protecting the welfare of children and young people. You will develop further understanding of vulnerability and abuse in relation to indicators, risk factors and the framework for assessment. You will have the opportunity to explore assessment, referral, intervention and outcomes within both the legal framework and multi-agency working.

DURATION two days (not consecutive)

DETAILS sessions organised on request

We welcome enquiries from professionals from all public and voluntary sectors. Please contact us for information or advice about the content or delivery of these workshops and study days.

Sexual Health

Who are these for?

Sexual health courses can be provided for healthcare practitioners and those wishing to increase their knowledge in sexual health. Study days are suitable for all nurses (such as school nurses, gynaecology nurses and practice nurses), midwives and those working in any area where sexual health is an issue.

What are they about?

Our range of courses covers subjects such as HIV/AIDS, sexually transmitted infections (e.g. chlamydia), general sexual health, and cervical cytology and contraception updates. Courses can be delivered on site or at the university.

Sign-Off Mentor

Who is this course for?

To attend this preparation session, you must be on the live register of mentors within your trust or organisation, having previously completed a mentor preparation course or equivalent. You must be a qualified midwife currently undertaking the mentor preparation course or a qualified nurse who is mentoring pre-registration students in their final placement prior to qualification.

You must be supported by an experienced sign-off mentor and have access to a suitable nursing or midwifery student. You must also be supported by the local PDM/PDF or organisational manager, who will be responsible for ensuring that you complete the practice requirements to become a sign-off mentor within six months of the study day before entering you as a sign-off mentor on the mentor register.

What is it about?

With the introduction of sign-off status for mentors in line with the Standards to Support Learning and Assessment in Practice (NMC, 2006), many nurses and midwives have gained sign-off status by meeting the requirements within the standards document, either by virtue of experience or by completing a mentor preparation course that includes additional content to achieve sign-off status. There are now a number of staff in trusts and organisations who wish to become sign-off mentors and who require preparation for the role.

If you have completed a mentor preparation course at the University of Greenwich, there will be no charge for the half-day sign-off session. Please ensure that you include your Banner ID number on your application form. Applicants who have undertaken mentor preparation at another higher education establishment will be required to pay the current half-day study fee.

DURATION half day

Stress Management: Thriving and Surviving!

Who is this for?

This course is for any member of staff working within the NHS and other social care organisations who would like to identify strategies for coping with stress-related issues whether or not they are currently experiencing stress. Previous participants recommend the study day as being extremely informative, practical and motivating when dealing with work-life demands and changes.

What is it about?

The Health and Safety Executive, the Chartered Institute of Personal Development and the Boorman review into the health and well-being of NHS staff all emphasised the need to take action to reduce the problem of stress. It is integral to all professional development in health and social care. This interactive workshop focuses on understanding stress and its effects on individuals in the workplace, thereby enhancing performance and well-being at work. It will enable you to understand the theory and identify strategies for coping with stress-related issues through increased awareness and resourcing.

By the end of this workshop, you will be able to:

- Explain the theory of stress
- Distinguish between pressure and stress
- Recognise the signs of stress
- Identify solutions to address the sources of stress
- Understand the importance of individual resources
- Recognise the importance of communication
- Apply relevant coping strategies and put together a personal action plan.

DURATION one day

The campuses

Avery Hill Campus

Most School of Health & Social Care teaching is delivered at Avery Hill Campus in Eltham, south-east London. The campus has two sites, on either side of Avery Hill Park.

Mansion Site is north of the park. The address is:

Avery Hill Campus
Mansion Site
Bexley Road
Eltham
London SE9 2PQ

Classrooms and offices on Mansion Site have the following prefixes:

- T Tower Building – classrooms on the second, third and fourth floors
- M Mansion Main Building – classrooms
- R Bird Sanctuary Building (between Mansion Main Building and Tower Building) – classrooms
- H Honeycombe Building – classrooms.

Mansion Site houses media resources and the main campus library. Staff of local NHS trusts have borrowing rights at the library. Please ensure that you have your trust ID, a passport-size photo and proof of home address.

For more information on the library, please visit www.gre.ac.uk/offices/ils/lis or telephone the Enquiry Desk on 020 8331 9651.

Southwood Site is on the eastern edge of the park. The address is:

Avery Hill Campus
Southwood Site
Avery Hill Road
Eltham
London SE9 2UG

Classrooms and offices on Southwood have the following prefixes:

- G Grey Building – classrooms and academic staff offices
- B Bronte Building – classrooms and academic staff offices
- MS Mary Seacole Building – classrooms and academic staff offices
- D David Fussey Building – classrooms, skills laboratories and a sports hall (the four skills laboratories here are named Nancy Roper, Charlotte Kratz, Rosalind Paget and Aneurin Bevan).

Parking and catering

Students must pay to park on the campus. Pay and display machines are located on both sites. At busy times, parking may be difficult, so car sharing and public transport are recommended. For more information, visit www.gre.ac.uk/about/travel.

Both sites have catering outlets during term times: Greengages and the Engine Room on Mansion Site, and the Dome on Southwood Site. Outside these periods, the Dome is open on Southwood and the Pantry operates at Mansion. Both have students' union shops for food, soft drinks, confectionery, newspapers and stationery.

Location of your course

You will receive notification of the venue and a map with your letter of confirmation. Please ensure that you note the site, prefix and room number. The university telephone switchboard, on 020 8331 8000, can put you through to extensions on either Avery Hill site.

Medway Campus

The Drill Hall Library is available to all students on campus. The library has a very good selection of health and social care resources. Clinical staff in Kent and Medway NHS trusts have borrowing rights and may use the library's public PCs, which have Internet access. To register, please ensure that you have your trust ID, a letter from your manager confirming your employment, a passport-size photo and proof of your home address.

For more information on the library, please visit <http://campus.medway.ac.uk/library> or telephone the Enquiry Desk on 01634 883278.

Computing

Computing suites in Nelson and Blake Buildings (with tutor supervision), and in the Drill Hall Library, offer e-mail and Internet facilities, as well as word-processing and other software. For further information, telephone 01634 883278.

Parking and catering

The campus has parking for visitors, which must be booked through the Facilities Management Office; telephone 01634 883035 or e-mail fm-me@gre.ac.uk. There is a canteen-style restaurant in Pembroke Building and a bistro café in Pilkington Building. The student association shop is in Jellicoe Building.

How to find us

Please find general information below. For more detailed guides to the campuses, travel tips and timetables, visit www.gre.ac.uk/about/travel.

Avery Hill Campus

By road: at Junction 2 of the M25 take the A2 towards London or, if coming from London, take the A2 towards Dover. Exit the A2 at the Danson Interchange for Sidcup, Welling and Bexleyheath (A221). Drive through Blackfen on the A210 to the junction with Avery Hill Road, and at the traffic lights with the petrol station opposite, take the left filter lane into Avery Hill Road (B2214).

For Southwood Site, continue forward along Avery Hill Road. For Mansion Site, turn on to Reinickendorf Avenue and continue to the end. Parking is off to the right.

Pay and display parking charges apply at the campus.

By train: regular trains run to Eltham, Falconwood and New Eltham from Charing Cross, Waterloo East and London Bridge.

Mansion Site's nearest station is Falconwood, a 15-minute walk along Riefield Road. New Eltham, the nearest station to Southwood Site, is 20 minutes' walk away.

By bus: see www.tfl.gov.uk/buses for the latest information.

Medway Campus

By road: from London/the M25 take the A2 towards Dover. Just before the A2 becomes the M2 move into the left-hand lane to join the A289 to Gillingham. Follow signs to Gillingham. As you leave the Medway Tunnel, branch left and at the roundabout take the last exit marked 'universities'. Then follow signs to the campus.

From east Kent take the A2/M2 towards London. Exit at Junction 4 and take the A278 towards Gillingham (or follow anchor signs). Follow signs to Chatham Maritime/Medway Tunnel. Then follow signs to the campus.

To park on campus, visitors must obtain a temporary permit from the Gate House.

By train: there are frequent services to Chatham and Gillingham from Charing Cross, London Bridge, Cannon Street and Victoria stations. There are also services from Ramsgate and Dover.

By bus: there are a number of bus companies operating services in Medway. You can find links to these and timetables by visiting www.medway.gov.uk/transportandstreets/publictransport.aspx and clicking on the 'bus' link.
