

DAY 1: Introduction to Hermeneutic Phenomenological Philosophy

- Hermeneutic Match 2 - Group work
- Phenomenology in a nutshell - Seminar
- Phenomenology: What and Why? - Seminar
- Philosophy, methodology, methods: understanding the connections - Seminar
- Focus on methods: what makes a hermeneutic question? – Group work

DAY 2: From Philosophy to methods

- Thinking about the self: Dasein and 'being with' in research – Seminar
- Focus on methods: managing preconceptions – Group work
- Delegate presentations x 4
- Phenomenology and ethics: from Heidegger to the research ethics panel – Seminar

DAY 3: Methodology and Methods

- The phenomenology of words and language – Seminar
- Collecting data: the phenomenological interview – Practical demonstration
- Focus on methods: data collection – Group work
- Delegate presentations x 4

DAY 4: Strengthening understanding of data analysis

- The thinking journey through analysis – Seminar
- Focus on methods: data analysis – Group work
- Longitudinal data collection and analysis in hermeneutic phenomenology – Seminar
- Diekelmann and data analysis – a voyage of discovery – Seminar
- Delegate presentations x 4

Day 5: Enacting hermeneutic phenomenology

- Demonstrating philosophy in analysis: writing up – Seminar
- Reading Heidegger: negotiating Being and Time – Seminar
- Guest Speaker Dr Mel Duffy - Lecture
- Guest speaker TBC – Lecture
- Guest speaker TBC - Lecture
- Hermeneutic Match 2 Revisited – Group work

Group work: delegates work in small groups, guided by facilitators

Seminar: Presentation by facilitator, with interaction throughout from delegates

Lecture: Presentation by guest speakers, with Q & A to follow.

Course facilitators: Professor Susan Crowther (AUT, NZ) and Professor Lesley Dibley (University of Greenwich, London).